I have had a talk with M. Y. Kesava Rao Asst. Engineer Head Quarters range and also inspected the building in his company. Owing to the sinking of the foundation, there are cracks all over the garbhagudi and it is dangerous to wait any longer particularly as we have further rainy season before us.

It is therefore immediately necessary to remove the main idol after Kala Karshana. The cost is estimated roughly at Rs 600 - vide Agamilla's estimate. Dowl. sanctioning this cost. The work from the funds of the temple.

Mukha mantapa would come up to Rs 4992 only if the cost of Renewal and Reerection (Kalakarshana and Samprokshana) is removed therefrom. This latter can well be attended to from the funds of the temple which has at its credit Rs 940.

As regards the repairs, the temple Committee bear any portion of the cost or is there any amount available from the State grant of this year. The temple is one of the best, if not the best in the city, reputed to have been constructed by Kempe Gowda the founder of the fort, and is centrally situated with a large following of devotees. The repairs have therefore to be undertaken immediately the funds being provided if need be by a loan from any other temple. Sri Ranganatha Swamy temple at Magadi has a cash surplus of Rs 8326 and out of its annual about Rs 5000 may be granted as a loan to Venkataramana Swami temple to be replaced next year by a grant from the usual provision in the State Budget or from the other Magadi sources. Please put up a draft sanctioning
